Diagnosis of Syphilis in Blood and Cerebrospinal Fluid, the Lorenz Flocculation Test for (J. N. Cumings), 34 examination of blood, 36 examination of cerebrospinal fluid, 35 method, 35
showing results in which the flocculation test agreed with the Wassermann and/or Kahn (table), 37 showing results in which the flocculation test disagreed with the Wassermann and Kahn (table), 37 reference, 38
summary, 38

Experimental Rabbit-Syphilis, Some Factors affecting the Development of Immunity in (Werner Worms), 18 dependence of resistance to superinoculation on the reaction of the rabbit towards the first inoculation, 28 further experiments, 31
heterologous cross-inoculations with strains of approximately equal age, 23 homologous and heterologous superinoculations of rabbits in the latent stage of the infection after spontaneous healing of the external signs due to the first inoculation (table), 29 methods and sites of the first and superinoculation, 26 quality (virulence) and quantity of S. pallida, 21 question of local immunity, 26
references, 32
reinoculation experiments, 25

superinoculations with strains younger than those used in the first inoculation (table), 23 superinoculations with strains older than those used in the first inoculation (table), 23 time-factor, 19

Hæmaturia following Sulphapyridine Therapy, Pathological Evidence as to the Causation of (N. T. Whitehead), 13 comments, 16
microscopical appearances, 14
references, 18

Methods of enlightenment of the general public on venereal diseases (L. W. Harrison), 77 courses of instruction, 79
discussion, 80
education by literature, 79
films, 79

Non-Gonococcal Urethritis (G. L. M. McElligott), 106
chemotherapy, 110
incubation period, 110
secondary infection, 112
Non-Gonococcal Urethritis (I. N. Orpwood-Price), 112 calculus, 113
discussion, 116
proportion of gonococcal and non-gonococcal urethritis (table), 112 vesicular cultures, 114

Observations on the Lipoid Reinforcement of Antigens in the Gonococcal Complement Fixation Test (A. I. Mercer and A. E. W. McLachlan), 38
Observations on the Lipoid Reinforce-of Antigens, etc.—continued.
  antigen A (table), 42
  antigen B (table), 42
  compligon (table), 41
  increase of sensitivity, 43
  references, 46
  summary, 46

Powers to deal with Sources of Infection, Contacts and Defaulters, the Need for (S. M. Laird), 84 congenital syphilis, 92
  defaulting, 86
  discussion, 93
  recognition of infection, 85
  references, 93
  source of infection, 87
  Swedish anti-venerale measures, 88

  pyrexial effect of varying vaccine dosage in first and second treatment (table), 59
  references, 58
  results of T.A.B. vaccine therapy in cases of gonorrhoea (table), 60
  results of T.A.B. vaccine therapy in cases of non-gonococcal urethritis
    (table), 61
  results of T.A.B. vaccine therapy in the complications of gonorrhoea and non-gonococcal urethritis
    (table), 62
  summary and conclusions, 57

Some Aspects of the Serology of Syphilis, with Special Reference to its Theoretical and Practical Significance (H. Sachs), 96
  flocculation tests, 103
  lability reactions, 103 Sachs-George reaction, 103
  serological tests, 100
  Spirocheta pallida, 97
  Wassermann reaction, 97
